

How to connect Mac (OS X)

Computers to Central's network:

1. Open up your System Preferences pane.
This is located underneath the "Apple" logo in the top left of your screen.

2. At the System Preferences screen, click on the Network icon.

3. Your computer should detect the airCentral network automatically. Select it from the list next to Network Name.

4. After selecting the airCentral network a box should drop down, requesting a username and password. Simply enter your Central account information. Make sure “Remember this network” is selected.

5. After a few seconds, your account should be verified. This will allow you to automatically connect to airCentral whenever you are in range of a Wi-Fi connection on campus.
